

Career Development Centre

About the CDC:

The Career Development Center (CDC) is a Soran University initiative that aims to bring together students, alumni, faculties, the private and public sectors in partnership to develop the region's employability as well as empowering economic infrastructure through our academic excellence. The CDC is fully committed to facilitating the potential of students' skills and equipping them for lifelong professional and/or academic success.

CDC Mission:

The Soran University Career Development Center (CDC) is fully committed to helping students develop a professional relationship between their academic experience and career goals. Soran University CDC provides career-related resources, programs and a wide-range of career information to enhance the soft and technical skills of our students; this is to enable them to build better employability skills to fulfill the needs of the private sector in the Kurdistan region. It resolves to achieve life-long career aims and meet the needs of potential employers as well as empowering the region's economic infrastructure, therefore increasing the productivity of the workforce through an academic basis. The Soran University CDC supports students and alumni to take advantage of the long-term partnerships between universities and the private sector.

CDC Vision:

The Soran University Career Development Center (CDC) is dedicated to bridging the alumni and student's successful academic pursuit with their future career employment, with 'hands-on' experience after graduation, based on a high standard of professional skills and academic qualifications for identifying career choices that reflect their unique interests and professional abilities.
